

MODEL STL-PC

Single Notch Push Type Pneumatic Tool

STL-PC

The STL-PC is a single notch push type pneumatic tool for standard duty steel strapping. The STL-PC offers the highest tensioning capabilities in the market. The aluminum housing provides durability and makes the STL-PC the lightest tool of its kind in the market. The overall design gives the STL-PC a low cost of ownership. With its ease of use and consistent performance the STL-PC is perfect for your standard duty push applications.
